A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 3, 4, 8-12, 16-20, 24, 25 and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Horita et al. '970.

The patent to Horita et al. discloses in Figure 9 a start point and an end point of a navigation device that has a map information storage section, as disclosed in columns 9-16 with two diagonal vertices that coincide at the start point and end point rectangular area, as described in columns 16-18.
